worms Category:Video game developmentThe present invention relates to a method of making a horizontal compacted or crushed granite aggregate and to the product of such method. There are known methods of making crushed granite aggregates of various compositions by compacting raw granular crushed rock in a wheel press or other suitable crushing means and by loading the aggregates into a mold and compacting and curing the loaded aggregates under conditions of elevated temperature and reduced pressure. U.S. Pat. No. 4,291,016 to Dyrud et al. and assigned to the assignee of the present invention discloses a method of making a horizontal compacted or crushed stone aggregate of a composition generally having high levels of reactive silica fines. A slurry of crushed rock, air entr
